A Reflection from the desk of the Pastor

The Fifteen Sunday in Ordinary Time July 10, 2022 Year C

When the scholar of the law spoke to Jesus, his question was meant to test Jesus. He asked about the requirements for inheriting eternal life. In responding, Jesus asked the scholar about what was written in the law. The scholar quoted part of the Shema (the Jewish confession of faith, made up of three scriptural texts; Deuteronomy 6:4-9, 11:13-21; Numbers 15:37-4). He concluded by asking Jesus who his neighbor was. Jesus used the story of the good Samaritan who proved to be a neighbor by helping the man that was attacked by robbers. Incidentally, a priest and a Levite went by the same road but did not stop to assist the man that had been attacked. They both passed on the other side of the road, as if to avoid being contaminated. The Samaritan, however, went the extra mile by attending to the victim, and taking him to an inn to be cared for.

The story of the good Samaritan is an excellent example of how one can be a neighbor to another person. Several years ago, I thought of a neighbor in the literal sense of the word (one who lives close to another person). Jesus' illustration shows that there are no limits or boundaries to who can be a neighbor. Jesus directed the scholar to "go and do likewise". We are also asked to "go and do likewise". Who is my neighbor? Is my definition the neighbor limited to people who are like me, people from my village, town, country, of the same race or political ideology? What are my criteria for determining who my neighbor is? Do I have a narrow definition of the word neighbor? Perhaps, we all need to broaden our criteria for determining who one's neighbor is. Or, perhaps, there should be no criteria because we are called to treat each other as brothers and sisters. The next time we encounter someone in need, let us reach out to them like the Samaritan did. He was not expected to assist. However, he offered the greatest assistance. Let us all go and do likewise.

God gave Moses Ten Commandments for us to live by, and the Jewish tradition turned them into 613 laws. God saw that these laws were cumbersome and confusing to live by so Jesus summed up the Ten Great Commandments with two Great Commandments. The first three of the Ten Commandments are about our relationship with God; the other seven are about our relationship with others. We know who God is, but do we recognize our neighbor? Joan

A PRAYER FOR THE COMMUNITY OF UVALDE

Heavenly Father,

You are the source of life and the seat of all wisdom. You call us to grow in knowledge, to serve with compassion, and to thrive in community. Our schools, all schools, are formed for this.

Once again and still, a school has been rocked by gun violence. A place of learning was transformed into a place of violence. Innocent children lost their lives. Dedicated teachers lost their lives. Welcome them into your loving embrace. Show your justice and mercy to the gunman.

Give solace to the parents and community of Uvalde. Give comfort to all those who have witnessed tragedy and are trying to comprehend this senseless act. Give courage to lawmakers to enact laws that finally and truly control guns; Give boldness to citizens to demand action from their elected officials.

Bless us with your protection, for we are all your children. May we live in peace;
May we learn in safety; and may we strive to bring the peace of Christ to our troubled world.

Grant this through Christ, our Lord. Amen.

Deuteronomy 30:10-14. Psalm 69:14, 17, 30-31, 33-34, 36, 37.

About Doing Likewise. Question 1: What must I do to inherit eternal life? Question 2: What is written in the law? Answer 1: Love God, love neighbor, love self. Question 3: Who is my neighbor, then? Answer 2: The one who shows mercy (In this story, it is not the one who needs mercy – though likely a neighbor, too.). Point: Go and do the same!

*Who is a “neighbor” beyond my acquaintances, my tribe? *What mercy work do I see being done?

*What will I likewise go and do?

Each of the four Gospels focuses on different aspects of Jesus' ministry and teaching. The Gospel of Luke is known as the Gospel of the Poor, the Gospel of Women and the Gospel of the Holy Spirit. Why did Luke choose to highlight the importance of poor people and women, when both were considered inferior and on the margins of society? Why is so much more importance attached to the Holy Spirit in Luke and the Acts of the Apostles than the other Gospels? Join us as we discuss these important themes in the Gospel of Luke.

ROE V WADE OVERTURNED – VITAE FOUNDATION CHARGES ON (Jefferson City, Mo.)

This week, the United States Supreme Court released a decision that would affirm the sanctity of human life, a moment much of the country never thought would come.

Vitae Foundation, the world leader in research of abortion decision-making, has long awaited the overturn of Roe v Wade since the organization was founded in 1974, shortly after the original Supreme Court decision in 1971.

Since its inception, Vitae Foundation has invested over $4 million in research to better understand the psychological motivators for abortion. Once findings are discovered, Vitae’s in-house team perfects the application of those findings by testing various media in selected communities. General findings and their best application are then shared at no cost with pro-life peers across the world. Additionally, the messages that are most successful in communicating with abortion-determined women are shared on a grand scale with Pregnancy Help Centers (PHCs) at no cost.

This Supreme Court decision now allows for each state to legislate abortion law, which also affects pregnancy centers nationwide.

In Missouri, where Vitae Foundation’s national headquarters is located, there is a trigger law in place that would make abortion illegal. This does not mean that pregnancy centers can close, and that Vitae’s work is finished in Missouri. Regardless of this decision, women will still face unexpected pregnancies and will need the support PHCs provide in all fifty states. Vitae Foundation President Debbie Stokes explains, “Many people don’t know that PHCs exist to connect women with financial resources, housing, free or low-cost daycare options, clothing, food, and emotional support during and after the pregnancy.” She adds, “No matter the legality of abortion, many women need the support of pregnancy centers. Our ProWomanApproach embodies love and respect for those mothers and their children. Out of that respect, we want women to be fully informed of all the options and resources at their disposal before they make their final decision.”

Vitae Foundation is a national non-profit organization that leads the world in its research of abortion-decision making, tests its findings using digital media campaigns, and shares best practices at no cost to pro-life peers worldwide to encourage a culture of life.
